Dear Sir:

Greetings!

Thank you very much for such a pleasant meeting we had this morning together with our visitors from one of the schools in the U.S.

For an institution with a global perspective and vision like ours, maybe it is quite timely for us and for our students to have some sort of initial exposure, social immersion and proper perception on global issues and concerns.

Our visitors this morning were: Professor Laurence Lew, Professor Jose Nava and Mr. Berlothy Nayo. Professor Lew is the chairman of the Business and Social Sciences Division as well as Social Entrepreneurship Program Director of Foothill College, Los Altos Hills in California, USA while Professor Nava is a CPA, MBA and a Business and Accounting Professor of the same school. Mr. Nayo is an alumnus of Calintaan National High School and is presently a manager of a travel agency in Manila.

Professor Lew and Nava together with their students in Foothill College were in Calintaan last year for a social entrepreneurship endeavor. They were delighted and amused with the exceptional Filipino values they observed in Mindoro and they want another fruitful immersion in the future. Their group was able to extend some help to Calintaan National High School students by donating water purifying facilities and baking equipments.

This time it was their earnest desire to tie-up with a local College in Mindoro for team projects and other kinds of interactive learning and exchange education in the near future.

Maybe this is the right time to give some of our students the opportunity to learn from their foreign counterpart, develop global thinking and be sufficiently in tune with the global trends in education thus attaining education beyond borders.

For our institution, this step would be essential in addressing developmental goals of producing exceptional graduates within the context of global competitiveness.

In this regard, in behalf of the group from Foothill College, may the undersigned request your good office to permit and entrust some of our college students to take part in an educational venture in Calintaan.

Thank you for your usual trust and support. We look forward for a proper coordination concerning this matter.

Respectfully yours,

AT Villanueva
